Spracht® Introduces the Conference Mate COMBO™

USB and Bluetooth Combo Portable Speaker for Voice and Music - BE HEARD!

Palo Alto, CA – Spracht, designer/producer of wireless speakers and conference phones, announces their newest product in the Conference Mate™ product line, the Conference Mate COMBO™, a dual use USB and Bluetooth® Speaker Phone. The Conference Mate COMBO™ is a Full-Duplex, Plug-and-Play portable conference speaker with dual Microphones so you are heard clearly and loudly on the far end. It also has a 5 watt downward facing speaker with a large bass radiator for full, 360 degree coverage. Whether it's for listening to Music or Voice, The Conference Mate COMBO™ is a perfect desktop companion for a small conference table, office, or on the go.

“After our successful launch of the original Conference Mate™, which received a CES Innovations Design and Engineering Award, we've launched a complimentary product that has added USB Voice to Bluetooth® which enhances the portable conferencing experience for the user. The original Conference Mate™ is Bluetooth® Only – but the new COMBO version can also be used as a soft-phone with your computer via USB for use with Skype, Lync, SKYPE for Business and other VOIP platforms” says Gary Crock, VP Sales & Marketing for Spracht. “Spracht now has a wide array of Portable Conference Devices which is a growth sub-category in the portable speaker market. We can really offer a wide range of peripherals for the business traveler on the go and the telecommuters.”

The Conference Mate COMBO™ comes with a powerful 2000 MAH battery, which provides extra long battery life. It also has a sleek, shiny Silver finish that will look good on any desktop or Tabletop. It has NFC pairing functionality, as well as a mute button for conference call situations. And as a speaker for Music, it will acoustically fill up a room with a rich and full stereo sound. This is a great product for small businesses, telecommuters, road-warriors, or anyplace that needs to be used as a small conference area.

The Conference Mate COMBO™ comes equipped with 2 internal mics, USB Cable, AC power adaptor, and manual. The Conference Mate COMBO™ will retail for $129.99 and is available for purchase at www.spracht.com and many of the leading online resellers.
